Exhibit of

The Mint of the United States at Philadelphia,

~~Superintendent's Office~~,

Chicago June 24. 1893.

Col. A. E. Roseyshell

Supt. U. S. Mint

Dear Sir

Your favor of 22nd inst. just rec'd but in it no inclosure to Mr. Stocks in regard to relieving Mr. Grace from duty here, and as you did not send Mr. Stocks' letter I will say nothing to Mr. Grace until I hear further from you.

From several conversations between Mr. Grace and my self upon the subject I know that he wants to be relieved about the middle or latter half of July. I remarked to you at the Mint this morning a a letter with the stamp of the Dept. of Collections upon the envelope.

RG104 Entry-1 Box 182

One of the coils in the armature of our motor burned out yesterday and the Waddell Entz representative is now making repairs.

Every thing else is going on as usual. but the action of the department here in taking affairs out of your hands seems to have put a damper on all hands and made it a matter of small importance whether we make medals or not. of course. a suffly of medals will be kept on hand as usual for sale and everything carried on creditably. but it is done with less spirit than heretofore.

Yours Very Respectfully
A. S. Beckler

RG104 Entry-1 Box 182

NARA RG104, Entry 1, Box 182

Exhibit of The Mint of the United States at Philadelphia,
~~Superintendent's Office,~~
Chicago,
June 24, 1893

Col. O.C. Bosbyshell
Supt. U.S. Mint

Dear Sir

Your favor of 22nd inst. just rec'd but in it no inclosure to Mr. Stocks in regard to relieving Mr. Grace from duty here, and as you did not send Mr. Stocks' letter I will say nothing to Mr. Grace until I hear further from you.

From several conversations between Mr. Grace and my self upon the subject I know that he wants to be relieved about the middle or latter half of July. I remailed to you at the Mint this morning a letter with the stamp of the Dept. of Collections upon the envelope.

One of the coils in the armature of our motor burned out yesterday and the Waddell Entz representative is now making repairs.

Every thing else is going on as usual, but the action of the department here in taking affairs out of your hands seems to have put a damper on all hands and made it a matter of small importance whether we make medals or not of course, a supply of medals will be kept on hand as usual for sale and everything carried as creditably, but it is done with less spirit than here to fore.

Yours Very Respectfully,
N.S. Beekley